EXHIBITORS INFORMATION 2027

SRPC's Rural & Remote Medicine Conference is one of Canada's leading gatherings for rural and remote healthcare professionals, bringing together physicians, residents, students, healthcare providers, and industry partners from across Canada and beyond.

Each year, the conference provides a dynamic environment for attendees to build clinical skills, share knowledge and experiences, explore emerging approaches to rural medicine, and strengthen professional connections. Beyond the educational program, the conference creates valuable opportunities to connect with colleagues, develop lasting relationships, and engage with the evolving needs of rural and remote communities.

With a strong national audience and a focus on practical, relevant education, the conference offers sponsors a unique opportunity to connect with the rural healthcare community.

DELEGATE DEMOGRAPHICS

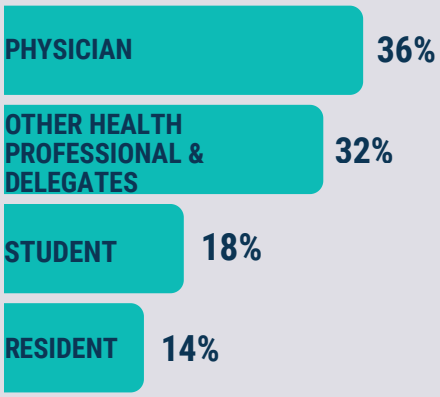

The majority of delegates are physicians practising in rural and remote Canada, along with medical students and residents interested in rural medicine.

Other delegates include nurses, physician assistants, medical educators, health administrators, and academics.

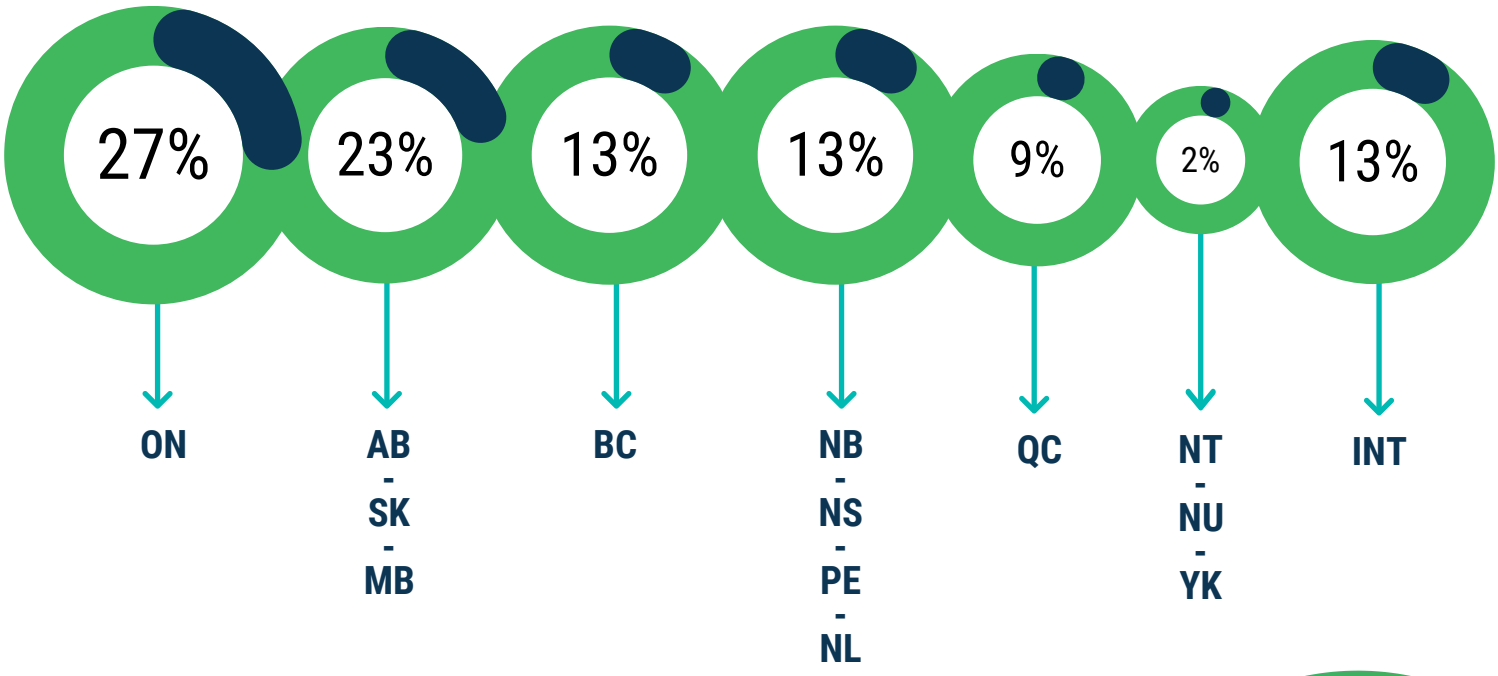

Funds raised through your contribution ensure the ongoing viability of this valuable conference. It is the only one of its kind, addressing the needs of rural doctors on a national level.

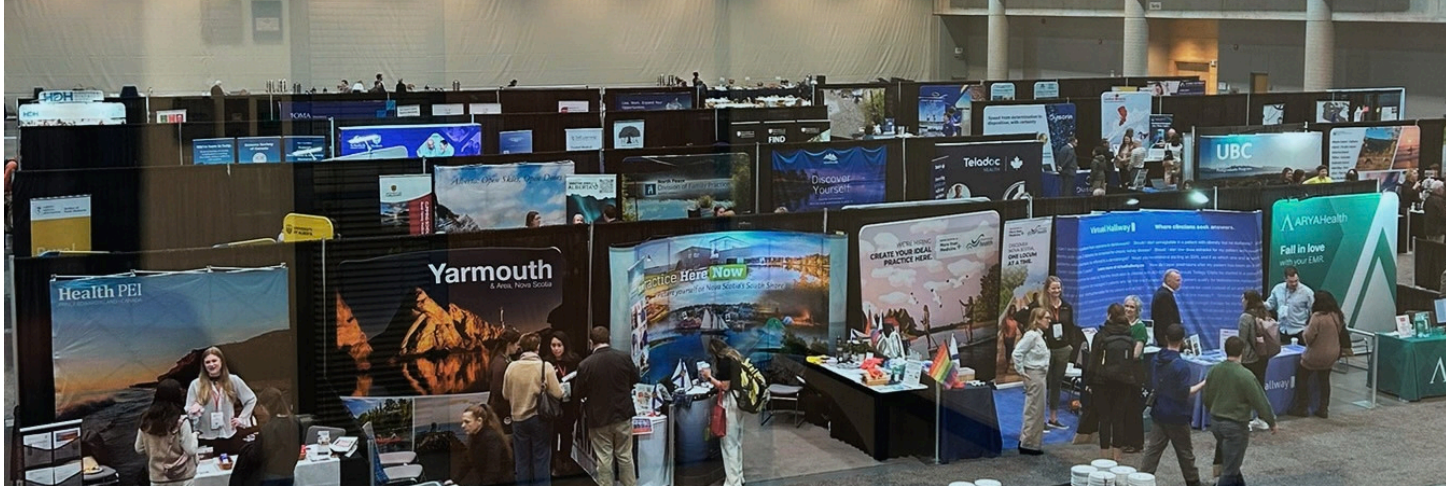

All sponsorship contributions are considered unrestricted educational grants.
